Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We would thank, most of us at any rate, Washington to say less and do more. The complaint coming from this or that official that the people of this country do not yet realize there is a war going on, is so far from the fact, that it only reveals to the country the small caliber of men who have been placed at the head of large war enterprises.

When death strikes down one of our young men, who are serving in this country's battle lines on a world-wide front, and we know the cruel burden of grief under which the dead youths family labors, all of us share that grief. And death has already struck, at random as it were, throughout this country. In the Philipines, Wake and Midway Islands, at Pearl Harbor, in the Coral Sea, in Masacsar Stranghts, off Iceland, along our Atlantic shores, in China, in Africa, and even in Europe, our boys have made the ultimate sarifice. "We the people" know there is a war going on, but sometimes we doubt whether the talkers in Washington know it.

No one complains of sugar rationing, at least we have not heard of such complaints. No one complains of tire shortage and rationing. No one complains of the taxes even though many do have to make great sacrifices to pay them. There are no complaints for the reason that everyone with a brain knows that these sacrifices are nothing compared with that a mother makes when she sees her son march off to battle. Every moment he is in the armed forces is a nightmare to every mother—and father. To their friends it's a constant anxiety. Yes all of us, especially those who have given sons to do the fighting, are aware there is a war, a dreadful war, the worst in history.

What we don't like to hear from Washington is a forecast of further sacrifices. Whatever they are we at home are ready to make them. But we prefer that they be imposed upon us quietly and suddenly with a statement of the reasons that anyone can understand. In spite of a voceriferous yawping about there being plenty of rubber, most of us who know anything about rubber, and how we we came by it in the days before the war believe that there is a real rubber shortage, a critical shortage and we are planning to do the best we can with our tires as long as they last, and without them when we must quit rolling.

We are not so sure about sugar, but that's all right to. We would be pleased if some authority like Brookings Institute would confirm the sugar scarcity, but most of us are willing to take that matter on trust. The health of a lot of people will improve with less sugar. But we do wish the little men in Washington would quit debating it. It is so small a matter in the light of world events that it is hardly worth mentioning. If there is to be a coffee, and tea shortage, for heavens sake, let's hear no more about it, but clamp down now and here and ration them. When our friends get a telegram from Washington, beginning: "We regret to inform you————", why in God's name, would anyone think of sugar, tea, coffee, rubber or taxes. There is something hideously trivial about many utterances that eminate from Washington. Clowns playing corn fiddles while a nation prays and strives for victory. Who is not making whatever sacrifices are needed for victory?

Yes, we will answer that one. The farm bloc, or rather a small coterie of lobbyists, who live by preying on the fears of congressmen and farmers. The labor rackketeers who live by the same means. And along with these are public servants more concerned with keeping their jobs than with winning the war. Legislators who straddle and side step. Leaders who do not lead until the wrath of a mighty people forces them to lead. Why are we threatened with inflation and chaos? It is because men of little courage, or little understanding, have been afraid—that's the word—to put a ceiling on wages, the largest factor in inflation. Why have we no centralized authority over navy and army? Because certain of our war chiefs are more concerned with their prestige than they are with winning the war.

The people of this country are neither morons nor children. They want no more sugar teats nor wrist slappings from Washington. They demand more fighting and less—much less—talking. The people will make the sacrifices gladly. But please let us hear no more corn fiddling in the nation's capitol. "We the people" have heard mothers weeping for their sons.

JULY MINING ISSUE

Employment Increases In Gold Mines

Nevada County gold mines employment increased slightly during the past month, due principally to the hiring of additional men at the Lava Cap Mining Corporation properties.

The total number of men at the Lava Cap is now approximately 275, about 40 above the number at work a month ago.

A survey revealed Nevada County mines now employ 1,304 men with a monthly payroll of $195,600. Last month's survey showed 1,282 men employed.

The Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., has approximately 500 men employed at its operating properties. Approximately 400 are at work at the Idaho-Maryland Mines. The Spanish Mine, where 100 tons of baryte is being mined each day, has 30 men employed.

Although piping has ceased at the Omega Mine, a crew of 38 men is still employed in cleaning up. The clean up work will take about another three weeks.

The latest employment figures at the various mines are:

IDAHO DIVIDEND DEFERRED AGAIN

Further deferment of dividend action was voted by the board of directors of the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation at the last meeting. The last dividend, amounting to five cents, was paid last February from 1941 earnings. According to W. H. French, secretary, "the uncertainty as to future labor conditions and tax obligations makes it imperative that we preserve our present strong cash position until conditions are more stabilized."

Returns To Napa—

Beth Ebaugh returned Tuesday to Napa, where her husband, George, is employed, following a several days visit with friends and relatives here.

Empire Oldest Operating Quartz Mine In Country

The Empire Mine is in its 92nd year of continuous operation without a shutdown. The mine holds the record of being the oldest gold mine in continual operation in the United States.

Interesting data on this famous gold producer was secured by the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce.

It reveals the Empire Mine was originally located by George D. Roberts in October 1850. When Woodbury, Park, and others, enlarged their holdings by purchasing the Ophir Hill Claims in 1851, they named the mine "Empire" and this name has remained for this historic and glamorous mine for 92 years. The Empire Mine has been a name that is a household word in every mining camp the world over for the past half century. It has become more than a name, more than a mine, it has become an institution that is a living monument to fearless enterprise, bold adventure and limitless vision.

In the spring of 1854 the Empire Mining Company was incorporated. in 1865 new works were erected at an outlay of nearly $200,000 including a thirty stamp mill, then one of the finest in the state.

In 1869, Wm. B. Bourne, Sr., purchased the Empire. At his death in 1873, William B. Bourne, Jr., left Oxford and came home, as his father's financial affairs had suffered tremendously and the Empire Mines were about to be closed. The managers had decided to abandon the propert upon the advise of well known experts who pronounced the mine worked out and too deep for profitable working. Young Bourne disagreed with those findings, reorganized the company and C. F. Fargo was the only one of the old shareholders to join the new venture.

This was a period when belief in California's quartz mining was at its lowest ebb. Many times from 1879 to 1883 it was only the courage and foresight of the man who would not give up that kept the mine going. Times when bills had to be met, with no money to meet them, and finally his efforts rewarded in 1883 when the old Empire entered a new era of prosperity.

Today this mine has over 190 miles of underground tunnels, the most modern mining machinery, and produces annually 100,000 ounces of gold. The Empire Mine is the oldest quartz gold mine in continuous operation in the United States, having been in contant operation since 1850 without a shut down.

100 TONS PER DAY HANDLED AT SPANISH

Production at the Spanish Mine has been stepped up to 100 tons of barite ore per day.

This mine has been under lease for the past four years to the Industrial Minerals and Chemical Company. Renyold J. Penrose is now superintendent in charge.

A crew of 30 men is employed at present. A crew of 10 men was employed last winter in repairing a tram line 7,500 feet in length from the upper to the lower mine. A main haulage tunnel 175 feet long was run to tap the ore at the lowest point in the present development. The contracts for 1942 production require from 15,000 to 20,000 tons.

A camp, boarding house, power lines and water system are located at the Spanish.

NINE DEPART FOR ARMY

Nine Nevada Countyans departed for the army yesterday. The draftees were entertained prior to their departure by the Nevada City Rotary Club.

The nine had previously passed their physical examination and were given the 14 day leave to return to their homes to settle their affairs.

They are John D. Conway, Charles G. Beloud, William J. Torpie, Raymond M. Bartsch, William P. Bartle, Glen O. Allen, Albert J. Thomas, Richard A. Pitman, Donald H. Robertson.

CAPTAIN KOLBERER VISITS HERE WITH MAX WEISS

Captain Clem Kolberer and family of wife and two children were visitors this week at the Mr. and Mrs. Max Weiss home here.

Captain Kolberer arrived in Nevada City for the visit as a lieutenant in the army but while here he received a letter notifying him he was promoted to the position of captain. Captain Kolberer is stationed at Camp Cook near Santa Maria.

The captain's father and Max Weiss were very close friends and Captain Kolberer continued the close relationship after the death of his father.

Weiss is in a hospital here recovering from an operation and the visit of Captain Kolberer and his family cheered him greatly.

Non Suit Is Granted In Will Case

A sudden end came to the trial of the Mary A. Jefford will contest late yesterday when Superior Judge George L. Jones granted a motion by Defense Attorney James Snell for a non-suit after the contestants, the three daughters of the deceased, had completed the presentation of their case.

Judge Jones' ruling will enable the son, L R.. (Bob) Jefford, administrator and chief beneficiary, to continue the probate of the estate, valued in excess of $10,000. The son and his wife, Wilma, were the defendants in the contested action. The contestants were Mrs. Marion Jones of Oakland, formerly of Nevada City, Mrs. Irene Foote of Auburn and Mrs. Lucille Engle of Redding. The mother cut off the daughters in her last will, made approximately a year before her death, with bequests of various diamonds.

The end of the trial came three days after it opened before Judge Jones and a jury of six men and six women. The chief witnesses for the contestants were the three daughters.

Judge Jones in his ruling granting the defense motion for a non suit said he was satisfied an insufficient showing had been made that "a general insanity, general unsoundness of mind" existed at the time the will was made. He stated if such a condition exists no doubt experts would have been called to testify to that effect. This was not done.

Judge Jones said he believed the contestants failed to prove the issue of mental incompetency and the allegations of fraud.

Regarding the charge of undue influence by the son on Mrs. Jefford the court commented that "it must be admitted there was no direct evidence showing the son exercised undue influence on the mother."

He said although the son may have had the opportunity to use undue influence when his mother was at his home recovering from an illness there was no evidence of any particle to show this may have been the case.

Mrs. Foote and Mrs. Engle were the witnesses on the stand yesterday for the contestants. Their testimony attempted to prove their mother was of unsound mind after she had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and that their brother used "undue influence" on Mrs. Jefford to the end that she made the new will.

U. S. O. CARNIVAL SATURDAY NIGHT

Nevada Cityans are asked to attend in large numbers the gigantic fun carnival to be held Saturday night in Grass Valley at the Veterans Memorial Building for the benefit of the USO.

Money raised through the carnival will be applied to the Nevada County USO quota, which is $3500.

USO committeemen point out those who attend and spend a little money are not only having a lot of pleasure but are also aiding in raising funds to aid in entertaining the men who are fighting for our country.

Several Nevada City organizations will have concessions at the carnival, which was originally scheduled to have been held in the streets of Grass Valley but for practical reasons was transferred to the Veterans Building.

A Letter-

Virginia, Bobbie To Be Married

Dear .....:

A romance which began in Nevada City several years ago will culminate in marriage soon. It is that of Virginia Gold Blackwood, formerly employed by Colley's Confectionery here, and Robert Kellog Graham, son of the Charles Grahams of this city.

Both have left Nevada City but they are going to return for the wedding ceremony. Virginia, daughter of Mrs. Carney of this city, is employed in a Berkeley bank and Graham is working at Mare Island.

And speaking of romances, Miss Dorothy Roberts is engaged to wed Fred Juliff of Grass Valley. Miss Roberts is now employed at Bolton's Variety Store.

We informed you before that Joe Sbaffi, who went to the Hawaiian Islands two years ago to work on a national defense project, enlisted in the army as a private. Sbaffi's address, in case you care to write to him and no doubt he would like to receive letters from his friends, is 367th Engrs., S. S. Co. A., A. P. O. No. 957 care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif. Bob Paine is keeping him posted on Nevada City news by sending him The Nugget.

The Clinton Whitaker family is preparing to leave Nevada City for Kelseyville, where Whitaker has the offer of a position in a drug store. The Whitakers have been here for several years and their departure will be regretted by all who have known them.

Dick Lane is now clearing up his affairs in the service station business and it is his plan to soon enter defense work of some description in the bay area.

Marlin Young will soon leave Nevada City for Marysville, where he will operate the projector in a motion picture house. Young for the past several years has been employed by Dave Richards' butcher shop.

Eddie Powell has signed enlistment papers in the Coast Guard. He will have his physical examination in San Francisco on Tuesday.

The Nevada City Miners Foundry and Supply Company's no serious accident record was marred when James Morrison, son of the Merle Morrisons, suffered a broken leg when a steel plate fell upon him. The accident was just one of those things that happen and fortunately Jim is recovering satisfactorily at the Miners Hospital.

Federal and state officers report a large number of defense workers use their cars to reach the lakes and streams in the high Sierrras for fishing .

These officers are now reporting the license numbers on these cars. Henceforth defense workers using tires for purposes other than the principal purpose of transportation to their jobs will be denied tires. The tire rationing board is attempting to impress upon the people that there is a war on and rubber cannot be used indiscriminately. The rationing board is deluged with requests for tires but only a few can be issued each month so the general public must be emphatically educated to the fact that they must conserve their rubber because at least for the present no more are forthcoming.

Dick Tuttle, passed through Nevada City Sunday with his fiancee, enroute to Reno, Nev., where they were to be married. So far we haven't noted the license in the metroolitan newspapers but no doubt the marriage was consummated .Tuttle and his bride to be stopped here for Bobbie Schiffner, who was to accompany them to Reno to act as an attendant but unfortunately Bobbie was not immediately available and the trip had to be made without him.

Tuttle, the youngest son of Mrs. Raglan Tuttle and the late Justice Tuttle, attended Nevada City High School.

Until next week we now say adios.

Mrs. Raglan Tuttle who has been pending a few days with Mrs. Claude Ferguson at her home at Town Talk, returned to her home in Sacramento yesterday.

DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS

All the tanks, airplanes and munitions America's geared up war plants may produce will be useless to our soldiers and our Allies overseas unless we win the bitter Battle of the Atlantic—unless we build ships faster than the Nazi wolf pack submarines can sink them.

So asserted Captain Edward Macauley, U. S. maritime commissioner, in complimenting California shipyards for a splendid record while at the same time warning that more than 800 new ships must slide down the ways this year and 1500 in 1943. The three top shipyards in production are all on the Pacific Coast. he revealed—and these yards will deliver 20 of the next 32 Liberty ships to be built by all U. S. shipyards.

"The men on the shipways, the men who load the cargoes—and above all. I think the officers and men who take the ships out to sea. are at the very heart of our war effort," Captain Macauley said. "No one knows better than they what they are fighting for."

The doughty sea-dogs who survive shelling and fire and torpedoing. who see their comrades drown and are rescued. only to ship out at first opportunity on the same dangerous mission of patriotism must know better than other men the meaning of the psalmist in his song:

"They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters; these see the works of the Lord, and His wonders in the deep."

THE INCOME TAX WILL GET YOU!

The income tax will get you—whether you watch out or not

The federal tax for this year of 1941 is steep enough. It has hit wage earners who had never before come within range of that particular tax scythe. But the 1942 bill approved by the House Ways and Means Committee will cut to the bone.

Abandyman making a scant $600—$50 a month—will be caught by the scythe to the extent of $15!

The butcher boy earning $1000 a year must turn over $89 to Uncle Sam!

The clerk earning $1500 must save $181 out of it as his share of the extraordinary levies of costly wartime!

Californians have, however. a chance to protect themselves against squeezing out additional money for the war-rich state treasury in meeting the state income tax. On the November ballot will be an initiative measure to repeal the state income tax.

Most likely California taxpayers will kill the superflous state income tax November 3. For the war-financing U. S. treasury in need of every spare dime, is going to get them—and for plenty!

INVINCIBLE PRODUCTION MACHINE

Americans may well be proud of their industrial war machine and confident that it will enable the Allied Nations to triumph in the end. As one newspaper correspondent. returning from a "Production for Victory" tour. sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, puts it, "American industry is so huge and so powerful. both actually and potentially," that nothing "can prevent it from swamping the Axis."

"Throughout the land, a mighty revolution is in progress" says this correspondent. "American industry is beating the ploughshares of peace-time—the autos. the electric refrigerators, the toasters and the washing machines—into the swords of total war; planes, tanks and high explosive bombs."

While industry did not want this total conversion to war production any more than the public wanted to exchange their cars for tanks, the colossus is now at work and results of the gigantic war effort are discernible in every manufacturing center in the country.

On an all-out war production basis, American industry has not only met and passed the "fantastic" production schedules laid down by the government, but is beating the combined Axis production in terms of planes, guns, tanks and other essential fighting equipment.

Despite tremendous obstacles, which industry already is summounting, and despite the shortage of certain vital materials, which ingenuity on the part of industry and sacrifice on the part of the population can overcome, American industry is doing its share of the job and as this correspondent points out, "the picture of the Arsenal of Democracy at work is one from which every lover of freedom may draw courage and strength."

What You Buy With

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

CUSHIONING THE HURT

WHAT'S THE SCORE, INDIA?

News in Rhyme over KJBS daily at 12:30 P. M.
Written by Harley M. Leete, Jr.

Well, Indian friends, just what's the score?
You don't want the Japs to win the war.
It seems you want independence first,
Before youll dig in and do your worst.
Non-violence, no doubt, is good,
But let this fact be understood:
Non-violence won't cut much ice,
With Japs—they're violent, not nice.
If Japan should deal you a hard defeat,
And in protest, you all lay down in the street,
Why, they'll drive right over your bodies in tanks,
And all you'll get is coffins for thanks.
In peace, non-violence may possibly aid,
In supporting claims you may have made.
But this, good India, is war—
We must pull together more and more.
If it's independence you desire,
It's time to pitch in with plenty of fire,
Doing your best instead of your least,
Britain can use whole-hearted support,
And it's in your best interest to hold her fort.
Your terms can be settled when the war's been won,
There's no time for talk, with the task just begun.
We trust old Ghandi will soon see his part,
And inspire India with a brave fighter's heart.
You may not have liked the deal you've had,
But let's not make worse what's already bad.
Only one side fights for freedom, you know,
And that depends on how war's fortunes go.
Old Ghandi's possessed of an excellent brain,
So he must know how much you've to gain,
By fighting now with the force that dictates,
All it has to the freedom of sovereign states.
So Indians, awake and pull your oar,
And all together, we'll win the war.

THE GOLD RUSH OPENS SUNDAY AT NEVADA THEATRE

A reviewer who wrote of "The Gold Rush" in 1925 "it is at once a classic and a certain money maker", can say that again.

Power to amuse and entertain with undiminished effectiveness after 17 years assuredly stamps this comedy as a classic.

"The Gold Rush" opens at the Nevada Theatre here on Sunday and continues through Tuesday.

It is the original and still incomparable Chaplin who paces the screen porforming again his dance of the Vienna Rolls, his dining on stewed shoes, the escape from the tottering cabin and the many related bits of business, all now in film history and tradition. It is the new and oral Chaplin who speaks a running commentary, written by himself, which supplies something more effective than dialogue to the refurbished version of the silent success, a music score scored by himself and Max Terr supplementing the narration as if a part of it.

Tunnel Being Driven To Contact Ledge At Brush Creek Property

A tunnel is being driven at the Brush Creek Mine to tap the shaft recently sunk on the ledge.

The new workings, undertaken as a prospecting program, have opened up a considerable amount of high grade ore and extensive backs are said to be available.

The mine, located in Sierra County, is owned by Fred F. Cassidy of Nevada City.

NON-SUIT

Mrs. Jones occupied the stand during most of Tuesday's proceedings. She testified her mother became irrational after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage on August 6th, 1940 while she was ill at the Jones home in Nevada City.

As a result of a paralytic stroke, Mrs. Jones testified, her mother lost the use of her writing arm and during September, 1940, she taught Mrs. Jefford how to write her name. When speaking, Mrs. Jones said, her mother often became confused and incoherent and was not able to carry on a conversation.

"She attempted to play solitaire", Mrs. Jones testified, "but she could not separate the diamonds from the hearts or the spades from the clubs. Before her illness she prided herself on her card playing."

She admitted she sent a bill to her mother for her services while the mother was in the Jones home in Nevada City. She said she had not planned to collect the bill. Attorney Snell then read the letter into the evidence. It said:

"Nevada City, January 6, 1941

"Mrs. Mary A. Jefford:

"This is to inform you that the $772.00 balance of your bill must be settled. I shall expect some notice of your intention regarding this bill within three days of your receipt of this letter or January 11th at the latest.

"If I do not hear from you I shall then turn my bill over to the labor commissioner for handling. In view of the treatment I have received from you during the past few weeks I intend to push this thing through to a finish. Such rash ingratitude is beyond endurance.

"Respectfully,

"Mrs. Marion Jones."

Snell asked Mrs. Jones whether she harbored ill feelings against her brother.

"I haven't any feeling toward him," she replied. "I don't love him and I don't hate him."

Snell asked her if it were not true she ordered Jefford from her home in Nevada City, refusing to let him visit Mrs. Jefford while she lay ill.

Mrs. Jones said it was true and said she ordered him from the home because he disturbed her peace of mind and also upset the mother, necessitating hours of attention to quiet her. She admitted for six weeks she refused to let her brother visit the mother alone.

Dr. O. F. Lang, who attended Mrs. Jefford for months prior to her death, testified that while Mrs. Jefford was in his hospital during November, 1940, she commented that her daughters were not calling on her often enough.

Asked whether the differences between the brother and sisters had effect on Mrs. Jefford's condition, Dr. Lang remarked at times it upset her very much.

Dr. Lang said it was true that on October 29th, 1940, Mrs. Jefford begged him to take her out of the Jones home.

"Did she beg you with tears in her eyes," Attorney Snell asked.

"That is correct," Dr. Lang testified.

Jefford was the first witness called to the stand by the contestants after the trial began following the selection of the jury. He was called as an adverse witness and admitted a will made in 1935 left the estate divided equally between the son and three daughters. The subsequent will, made in December, 1940, left the bulk of the estate to Jefford.

Jefford said an apparent coolness on the part of the mother to her three daughters developed while Mrs. Jefford lay in a hospital during one of her spells of illness prior to her death. Jefford said he was a daily visitor to his mother during that time.

Mrs. Delight Brown of Nevada City testifying as a witness for the contestants, said that while Mrs. Jefford was ill at the home of Mrs. Jones in Nevada City she appeared irrational after she had suffered a stroke. At that time, Mrs. Brown testified, Mrs. Jefford did not recognize any one and once she observed the deceased reading a newspaper upside down.

The jurors hearing the case were: Gladys Gassoway, Jeanette Orzalli, Margaret Driggs, Catherine Gallino, John A. Richards, James H. Fraser, Walter J. Butz, William Argall, M. F. Keleher, Bessie McDermott, Joseph Huy and Olive Vincent.

AUTO CLUB EXPLAINS MOTORISTS LIABILITY ON "SHARE YOUR CAR"

Automobile owners who take part in the group riding plan for saving tires, fuel, and cars ,generally are protected by their insurance policies in the event of injury or death to passengers.

This was emphasized today by the California State Automobile Association, which is actively supporting the ride sharing movement.

Stating that inquiries on the question of liability in connection with group riding have increased with the spread of the plan, the automobile association gave the following answer:

Courts have held that anyone who rides under a car sharing agreement is a passenger, not a guest, and the driver is therefore liable if ordinary negligence on his part results in an accident.

But this liability has been taken care of by most insurance companies through changes in their policies for the specific purpose of protecting group riders and encouraging car sharing.

Numerous inquiries have come to the co-ordinator for Nevada County regarding the duration of the period during which special allotments of sugar may be obtained for canning. The Northern California State office of the Office of Price Administration is authority for the statement that the period during which such allotments may be obtained has not been limited.

Local boards have, however, authority to limit the daily hours during which such allotments may be obtained.

Raise To Contact Channel Started At Kirkpatrick

The new tunnel at the Kirkpatrick Mine in Sierra County has been driven to a point calculated to be under the channel and a raise has been started. The channel is expected to be reached within 50 feet. The mine was worked for some years through an incline shaft until the cost of extraction became prohibitive. The new tunnel is expected to tap the same channel at a considerable distance south of the old workings and will permit the working of the gravel by gravity methods.

Rinaldo Daneri of Downieville is superintendent. The Kirkpatrick is owned by Charles G. Johnson, state treasurer.

PLEASURE

The most delicate, the most sensible of all pleasures, consists in promoting the pleasure of others.—Bruyere.

Pleasure is very seldom where it is sought. Our brightest blazes of gladness are commonly kindled by unexpected sparks.—Samuel Johnson.

A life merely of pleasure, or chiefly of pleasure, is always a poor and worthless life, not worth the living; always unsatisfactory in its course, always miserable in its end.—Theodore Parker.

False pleasure will be, is, chastened, it has no right to be at peace.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The pursuit in which we cannot ask God's protection must be criminal; the pleasure for which we dare not thank Him cannot be innocent.—Richard Fuller.

He who can at all times sacrifice pleasure to duty approaches sublimity.—Lavater.

Nowadays, says the State Highway Traffic Advisory Committee, it is not only the tireless who walk but also the tire-less.

Going around corners on two wheels is a pretty good sign the driver has at least two more in his head.

SWIMMING LESSONS WILL BE GIVEN BY RED CROSS INSTRUCTOR

Nevada City children and adults as well, are anxiously awaiting next Monday, when the Red Cross Swim Weeks open at the municipal pool in Pioneer Park.

Mrs. Dorothy Thomas arranged for the appearance here of a Red Cross swimming instructor, who will hold swimming classes for all age groups and give junior and senior life saving instruction.

The swimming school will continue from July 27th through August 8th.

Registration for participation in the swim classes and for the life saving lessons is now under way at the municipal pool with Mrs. Clyde Garwood handling the registration.

War Research

In war the advantage is on the side with the best weapons. The work of scientists in America's research laboratories, developing new materials and new equipment, means a lot to our fighting men.

1. It takes years to build up and equip a large, organized, and able staff for research. Fortunately, industry did this long ago.

2. Long before Pearl Harbor, laboratories like General Electric's were serving their country—solving technical problems of war.

3. History repeats! In the last war "wireless" was developed for military needs—to become, with peace, a giant broadcasting industry.

4. So it will be this time. Research will help to win the war, and its many wartime discoveries will help to build a better future.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.
